255 PRINCETON MEN GET THEIR SHEEPSKINS

Gen. Wood Lauded at 169th Commencement as Man Who Awakened Nation.

PRINCETON, N. J., June 18. Great throngs gathered here to-day under cloudless skies to celebrate the one hundred and sixty-ninth commencement of Princeton. Besides the honorary and advanced degrees, 255 diplomas were awarded, of which 108 went to Bachelors of Literature, 92 to Bachelors of Art, 34 to Bachelors of Science, and 21 to Engineers—17 civil and four electrical.

Perhaps the ---- ----- honorary degree awarded was that of Doctor of Laws, and mon Major Gen. Leonard Wood, commanding the Department of the East.

"In our defenseless state," it was proclaimed, "he has sounded the reveille to waken a slumbering nation from its dream of security."

The degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred upon Henry Cabot Lodge. Senator from Massachusetts, and on Julian Alden Weir, president of the National Academy of Design. Rolla Wells, twice Mayor of St. Louis, received the degree of Master of Arts. Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, received the degree of Doctor of Science.

Among those awarded the degree of Doctor of Divinity was John Mc-Dowell, a graduate of Princeton, 1894, who was injured as a lad in an accident in a Pennsylvania coal mine.

He worked his way through school and college and has reconciled many bitter labor disputes.

President John Grier Hibben ansounced $294,000 in gifts since the last meeting of the Board of Trus-tees, $200,000 of which is to go to the founding of new professorships. He also announced that a new chemical laboratory would be built.

Found Dead on Porch An unidentified man about twenty-four years old was found dead to-day on the porch of a house at St. Mark's Place and Avenue A. He had appar-ently been taken ill, sat down on the porch and died. He was 5 feet 6 inches in height, weighed 166 pounds, had brown hair and a light complexion and wore a cap, black suit, gray socks and black
